

OBITUARY

Ralph Irving Miller

May 18, 1925 – May 15, 2021

It is with great sadness that we announce the passing of our wonderful husband, father and grandfather on May 15, 2021 just three days short of his 96th birthday!

Ralph was born in Fairplay, Colorado and lived most of his life in Humboldt County. He served in the Navy from 1943 to 1945. He was very proud of his service to his country.

He worked in the lumber industry for many years, including 20 years as the superintendent of Cal-Pacific Redwood Company in Blue Lake.

When Cal Pacific closed all their plants, Ralph obtained his general contractors license and started a backhoe, excavating and trucking business. He was happy to employ his grandson, Rick Estes.

They often made trips to the Bay Area together. Ralph was often up by 3 a.m. to start with a load of lumber to San Francisco and arrive home late in the evening just to get up and do it again the next day.

Ralph worked until he was 86 years old and was always happiest when working, sitting around was not his forte.

Ralph built his family home in 1958. He worked full time and built the house after work and the weekends.

He also obtained his pilots license and enjoyed flying for his relaxation.

He was an active member of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church and was chairman of the building committee for the Arcata/McKinleyville SDA church.

Ralph is survived by his loving wife Jo Evelyn, his son Jerry (Patti), his daughter Dolores Estes (John), his grandchildren

Rick Estes, Leann Estes, Melanie LaPorte and Brandon Miller.

He was a great-grandfather to 6.

There will be a family celebration of Ralph's life at a later date and his ashes will be scattered at sea. Ralph was a well-loved man.

Nordic | Many issues

Elaine Astrue said additional vehicle traffic from the project should be carefully evaluated, particularly for impacts on bicycling conditions.

Caroline Griffith said project's eventual 150-employee base will result in "an awful lot more traffic into the area." She asked that the EIR consider alternatives to single-occupancy vehicles.

Jake McMaster of the Humboldt Fishermen's Marketing Association said use of bay water intakes is a "major concern for us."

Juvenile Dungeness crab and fish are plentiful in the bay and "it's hard to see something that can keep them from not getting sucked into the intake."

He added that the temperature of discharge water could be "a vastly giant problem" due to the potential for algal blooms.

A final commenter, Darcey Evans, asked for more information on Nordic's importation of fish eggs, such as their source and level of pathogen screening.

A scoping session for state and county agencies was held earlier that day.

Their staffers asked questions about how floor-based drainage will be routed, monitoring of outfall discharge, the possibility of larvae intake, and emissions from emergency back-up generators.

Planning Director John Ford said county planners will do outreach to "make sure that we're adequately addressing the things that have been brought up" and will "make this an EIR that adequately identifies what the potential concerns and impacts are and develops a good set of mitigation measures."

❖ Corrections

The Trinidad Tidings column in the June 9 edition should have stated that Maureen McGarry painted an otter on display at the Trinidad Coastal Land Trust, Annie Reid painted an otter at Murphy's Market, Donvieve painted an otter at the Trinidad Art Gallery and Rachel Ristine painted an otter at The Seascape.

The article "McKinleyville looks at add new micro-transit" in the June 2 edition should have stated that the one- to two-vehicle micro-transit is one of two options in the study. The other option is a three- to four-vehicle system. The study did not recommend one option over the other, The study did not include a suggested fare.

million, based on data from CalPERS.

Weist Law Firm and California Municipal Advisors LLC will crunch the numbers and return to the district at a later date with refinance options.

When the agenda item was presented, it included a proposal to purchase the Arcata Fire Station at 631 Ninth St. from the non-profit Arcata Volunteer Firefighters Association (AVFA). The AVFA owns the building and leases it to the district for about $8,000 a month.

The AVFA uses the lease payments to pay down the $1,770,000 loan it owes Redwood Capital Bank. The non-profit is paying about 4.5 percent interest on the loan and recently notified the district that it will need to increase the monthly rent on the building.

District board members Randy Mendosa and Nicole Johnson recently met with representatives of the AVFA and the idea of the district buying the building was brought up.

The district could potentially include the cost of the building in the bonds it would use to refinance its pension debt. The interest rate may be about 3.5 percent rather than the 4.5 percent now paid by AVFA.

Director Rosen objected to the proposal from the start of the meeting, even voting against the approval of the evening's agenda.

"We're putting the cart before the horse," said Rosen, who pointed out that the board hasn't even discussed whether buying the building is in the district's best interest.

"I feel like we're jumping the gun here," Rosen said.

Johnson disagreed, saying that the board needs information on the cost of refinancing and buying the building before it can make a decision.

The board ultimately agreed to make the purchase of the Arcata Fire Station a topic to be discussed at a future meeting.

ed a 50-50 split between the Alpha and Gamma variants in local cases. The Gamma strain could become dominant this month, Hoffman said.

One local case has been linked to yet another variant which originated in India and is called the Delta variant. But the case was linked to international travel and dates back to last month, with no additional cases detected since.

Variant strains "might change the way the virus interacts with medications" and may be more contagious. "Some of them are being monitored for potential that they could escape through the vaccine response more easily," Hoffman continued.

It's also possible that variants could evade test detection.

How close are we to the end of the pandemic?

During the news conference, Hoffman could only say that he's "hopeful."

But he added, "There's no guarantee – I think how these things will go depends on the behavior of all of us in the county."

He believes another significant surge is "not likely" if unvaccinated people continue to wear masks in public. But if they don't, "I think we could very likely see a large surge in cases come June 15."

The week ending on June 11 saw confirmation of 66 more COVID-19 cases, bringing the county's total to 4,415. The county's hospitalization total rose to 195 after five people were hospitalized during the week.

There was another death, of a resident in their 50s, bringing the death total to 46.

About 42 percent of the county's population had been fully vaccinated.

Rain dampens Crabs' parade of victories

ARCATA – I didn't think they would play at all Sunday. But if they did play I knew I didn't want to sit out in the rain the whole time so I didn't mind being a little late.

By the time I tooted down F Street getting closer to the Arcata Ball Park I could see Crabs fans in rain ponchos leaving the game and headed for their cars.

The Crabs and Seals had made it through one inning before the game was called.

And this wasn't the first rainout of the weekend. Friday night's game against Seals Baseball from San Francisco was also rained out. So Saturday turned into a double header.

You know, when these Crabs get a chance to play they're actually pretty good! They dropped their season opener

Game one was another strong effort by Crabs pitcher Cole Tremain. He's off to a great start this summer season. CRABS ❖ PAGE 6

At last, you can belly up to the ballpark bar and order a cool Humboldt Cider

It used to be "baseball, motherhood and apple pie." Now it's "baseball, motherhood and apple cider."

Humboldt Cider has made it into the Arcata Ball Park.

"We're fans, so we are really excited," Tom Hart said. Hart is one of the partners in the Humboldt Cider Company.

And it's a celebration when cider gets added to the offerings already served: six kinds of beer and now also wine.

"We'll have our Drysdale Cider on tap," Hart said. "It's one of our best sellers and really appealing. And we'll be rotating through different ciders in cans and see what the fans like."

Flavors of hard cider that the company makes include Cherry, Imperial Blurberry, Swipe Right, Passion of the Fruit, and many more.

"Cherry is our best seller," Hart said. "Lots of times we do an event and if cherry isn't served, riots ensue."

Humboldt Cider Company gets most of its apples from Northern California, with the majority coming from Placerville. "In Fall, we buy as many as we can locally,"

CIDER CREW AT THE BALLPARK Kaleb Ashdon, Jamie Ashdon, Leigh Higgins, Tom Hart, Carson Hart. MATT FILAR | UNION

Hart explained. That would include fruit grown from Etnersburg to Bayside. "We get our McIntosh apples from Applegate, Oregon. It's the only out of state source, a friend's organic orchard."

Humboldt Cider was started in 2014, according to Hart. It moved into Redwood Acres in 2015. "We remodeled the old milking barn," he said. Since then, a tap room was opened at 517 F St. in Eureka and a new warehouse was added at Redwood Acres in 2019. Humboldt Cider employs "around 15 people" and their Facebook site has a post that more employees are needed.

Partners Hart, Jamie Ashdon, and Darren and Michelle Cartledge are all Crabs fans and have been going to games for years. "We hosted everybody (in the organization) at Redwood Acres prior to the 2020 season," Hart said, "only to have the season shut down."

Hart explained that the company survived the effects of COVID-19 on business by stepping up production of cider in cans. He thanked all the customers who bought cans of cider at Eureka Natural Foods, Wildberries, and Murphy's stores. "It really saved us," he said.

Revenue increases surprise county budgeters

Daniel Mintz
MAD RIVER UNION
HUMBOLDT — Humboldt County’s revenue sources saw surprising increases this year and the trend is projected to continue as the Board of Supervisors readies to approve a new budget.

At their June 8 meeting, supervisors reviewed a draft of the budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1.
It totals $505 million, an increase of about $40 million from the current budget.
The county’s tax revenues saw surprising growth in 2021, a year that was difficult to budget for due to pandemic uncertainties.

But Assistant County Administrative Officer Elishia Hayes told supervisors that sales tax revenues from general consumer goods and vehicles increased by 27 percent and 25 percent respectively during the first six months of 2021.
The combined sales tax revenue increase from those sectors amounts to $660,000.

The current year’s budget projected about $9.5 million in Measure Z public safety sales tax revenue and the estimate was upwardly revised to about $11 million last March.
Since then, Measure Z revenue “continued to substantially exceed even revised projections,” according to a written staff report,
The new budget projects $12.5 million in Measure Z revenue. Much of it will be spent on maintaining the public safety-related positions established in original rounds of Measure Z funding.

A slate of additional Measure Z projects for the coming year includes $1.9 million to the Humboldt County Fire Chiefs Association, $542,000 for an emergency communications upgrade project, about $150,000 for two emergency communications dispatchers and $290,000 to the Arcata Police Department for school- and youth-based “juvenile diversion” officers in the north county area.
Measure Z funding items that were not prioritized for funding include sheriff’s deputy coverage for Trinidad and Blue Lake. It was believed that there wasn’t staffing available for the coverage but Madrone noted that deputies are in place for it.
The county also has a federally-funded contract with CalFire for firefighting coverage and Madrone said about $60,000 of the contract allocation might be unspent and he proposed that it go to the “struggling” Westhaven Volunteer Fire Department.

child care.
Mary Ann Hansen of First Five Humboldt said that even before the pandemic, a majority of families in Humboldt couldn’t find child care. The pandemic resulted in the “decimation” of local child care, she continued.
Kerry Venegas of Changing Tides Family Services said reopening will increase demand for child care services. There were 215 child care sites prior to the pandemic and now there are 157 sites, she continued.
She asked for “proactive investment” in child care with ARPA funding.
The county accepts funding requests from outside agencies and one of this year’s requests is from the county’s Harbor District, for $6 million.

It will help match $56 million in federal funding for port infrastructure development related to development of offshore wind energy.
Wilson said the sizable request “definitely raises eyebrows for sure” but responds to “a request from our community” to prepare for offshore wind energy development.
During the public comment period, Larry Oetker, the Harbor District’s executive director, said the request is part of a larger national and state effort to deal with climate change.
The state’s draft budget includes $11 million for Humboldt port upgrade funding and “we’re really just asking the county to join this partnership,” Oetker said.
He described funding the wind energy-geared port upgrades as “a matter of urgency.”
Supervisors agreed to have the district make a presentation on June 21, when two public hearings on the budget will be held.
The budget’s adoption is set for June 29.

Crabs | They’re off to a hot start son, winning both games he pitched in. Saturday he struck out nine batters and only allowed one run. The final score was 3-1 in favor of the Crabs, a low scoring affair that would not reflect how the afternoon game would go.

Cade Van Allen was the starting pitcher for game two, and he performed well surrendering only two runs but it was the 8th inning that would be the story of this game.
With the Crabs leading by a run the Seals put a new pitcher on the mound who promptly gave up the ever ominous lead off walk to Crabs batter Aidan Morris.
After an Ethan Smith single and another walk to load the bases the Seals walked in a run to give Humboldt a 4-2 lead, and all before the Crabs recorded a single out for the inning.
Another walk, another single and a sacrifice fly - not exactly an offensive explosion, but it did total 6 runs for the Crabs to make the final score 9-2 Crabs.
When you add in two mid-week wins against the Bay Area Force, a first year team from Alameda, the Crabs are off to a six win, one loss record. The hope to continue their hot start with a four game series against the Seattle Studs starting Thursday at the Arcata Ball Park.

Cider | Strange and wonderful cans

Now Humboldt Cider is currently remodeling the old Kneaper Electric building on Hubbard Lane in Eureka into a “massive production facility and taproom.”
“We’re hoping to be in there by Fall,” Hart said.
Besides cider and the Crabs, Hart has another passion – orcharding and apples.
“The National Park Service and California Parks are working to survey old homesteads. The goal is to save rare varieties, including some wiped out by the Carr fire,” he said. “We have a small nursery at Redwood Acres with 160 trees.”
Hart and a consultant who works with the National Parks went around the county identifying old fruit trees and taking material to graft.
“The NPS gave me a small scholarship on how to preserve and maintain old orchards,” he said.
Some of the new stock will be replanted near Whiskeytown, where trees burned.
So watch for Dave Van Patten’s strange and wonderful graphics on those cider cans. The longtime Humboldtter now does murals in Long Beach but he will be up north again, doing a mural for the Arts Festival in Eureka. Will it include apples? Wait and see.
In the meantime, enjoy a cold cider at a Crabs game! humboldtcidercompany.com, 517 F St., 3750 Harris St.

Rollo: 90 pounds of love and loyalty

By the time you are reading this, Humboldt will be starting to return to normal, whatever that means. In dog and cat news, it means that the shelter will be returning to pre-COVID hours and will now be open until 7 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Appointments are still required to meet the adoptable animals. Call (707) 840-9132 to schedule.

I've been highlighting some of our bigger dogs lately. Here's one more.

Big Mastiff mix Rollo is another gentle giant. He is five years old and weighs about 90 pounds. Rollo's dream is to find a nice home with gentle people who will make him feel safe while still appreciating his affection and silliness!

I first met Rollo about a year ago when his people were living in a motel room with three dogs and five cats. They contacted Redwood Pals for some help with dog and cat food, which we provided. Not too long after that all of the animals ended up at the shelter.

Despite many attempts at helping, in the end the owner only took one of the dogs. The other female went up for adoption and shy Rollo went into foster with Redwood Pals. The cats were placed through cat rescue. We thought Rollo had found his forever home but we were mistaken as we just recently realized. So now a forever home is our goal for Rollo.

Rollo is a little shy at first but warms up pretty quickly. He has had to be in boarding for a few days as we don't have another place for him, but he has taken it like a champ! The boarding attendant adores him and told me she always spends a little extra time cuddling with him as he is so lovable!

We know that he likes cuddling, is a willing participant in doggie dress-up, likes to be tucked in at night, loves the beach, doesn't love getting in the car but does enjoy the ride, and he will greet you every time you come home like you have been gone for years! Though Rollo has lived with dogs and cats and is friendly to both, we are looking for a single pet home for him where he can have the confidence of being his people's number one best boy.

Rollo is neutered, housebroken and current on his vaccinations. If he tugs at your heart strings, please contact us at redwoodpalsrescue@gmail.com or leave a voicemail at (707) 633-8842 for more info or to arrange a meeting.

MISSION IMPROBABLE

NOT NECESSARILY DRESSED FOR SUCCESS Hacking your way to wealth is all the rage, but these slithy toves got it all wrong. Hacking doesn't mean you can literally just batter your way into an ATM's cash cache, ya big dumb lunks. On Wednesday, June 9, 2021, at about 4:38 a.m., deputies from the Humboldt County Sheriff's Office North Area Command responded to the Tri-Counties Bank branch on the 1600 block of Central Avenue in McKinleyville for a report of an alarm. When deputies arrived on scene, they discovered that an attempt to break into the ATM had been made. Deputies searched the area but were unable to locate any suspects. There was extensive damage to the ATM, but it did not appear the suspects were able to obtain any money from inside. The bank's surveillance footage captured these subjects on scene. If you recognize them, contact us at (707) 445-7251 and refer to Deputy Campbell's case 202103066. Left, the ATM after its brush with lo-res lowliferly. Above, the hoodie-and-ball-cap-clad crew. Grow appeal on June 22

MAD RIVER UNION
ARCATA BOTTOM/EUREKA – The appeal of Arcata Land Company's planned 8-acre Arcata Bottom cannabis grow takes place before the Board of Supervisors Tuesday, June 22 at 10:30 a.m.
The grow, whose Conditional Use Permit was approved by the county Planning Commission on April 22, was appealed by Bottoms resident Jim Cotton on behalf of a group of area residents and others known as Team 27th.
The group opposes the project on multiple grounds, ranging from environmental impacts to water use, traffic intensification, air quality, water use, noise and other issues.
Team 27th members were alarmed to learn that the deadline for public comment on the BOS hearing is Monday, June 14 at noon. They say they only received the mailed notice on Friday, June 11, leaving inadequate time for community input.
After some parley with county planning officials, neighbors report that the comment period has been extended to Wednesday at noon, but this hasn't yet been confirmed.
Those with comments may send them to cob@co.humboldt.ca.us, with reference to Arcata Land Company, LLC, record Number PLN-12255-CUP.

Maggie Fox brought beauty, peace and respect

About a half-dozen years ago I fled from our southern hills and found sanctuary in a little rundown house in Manila.
There was a broken toilet lying in the driveway, weeds working up through the rotted out framing, plastic bags shoved in above the windows for insulation and a single dead tree in an otherwise barren backyard.
❖ LETTERS
Welcomed by my neighbors, greeted by the dogs in the street, I felt immediately at home, and have given thanks for this place everyday since.
There are many reasons for my gratitude, but one I know many in the neighborhood will share is the park and its former resident caretaker,

Maggie Fox. SUBMITTED PHOTO
Maggie Fox, a woman I came to think privately of as the mayor of Manila (though I have no doubt she would scowl and laugh that off).
When I first met her she immediately struck me as one of those rare people who command respect while simultaneously expressing kindness and generosity.

In the way that she cared for the park – and, especially, for the people who use it – she seemed almost a sheriff without a badge or gun. Or perhaps a minister without a pulpit or sermon, but rather almost always with a shovel or weed whacker.
She helped maintain beauty, peace and respect in a place that would otherwise likely run wild.
Sometimes we forget how important it is to tell one another how much we appreciate them. So that's all this is, an overdue, much deserved letter to say again, thanks Maggie. We miss you.

On the Passing unto Glory of Sister Carol Davis

At first we could barely hear it. Maybe through a crack in the walls. In the darkest night. Out on the bluest highway. At a rest stop in Kansas. Faintly from the open door of an ancient Mercedes limousine. The music coming. Strangely garbed people getting out. Later we helped them push-start the limo.

A music we didn't know we were following till we got to the places it was coming from. A cabin in the woods. A shack on the slough. An old church about to be torn down. Empty storefronts of a dying lumber town. The alleys between. A town filling up with peculiar people and their peculiar needs. A place for food. A place for healing. A place for children and for the kind of people we've become. A place for poetry and music. The music getting louder. Coming this way.

In slow motion as in a dream. Coming down H Street toward the Plaza. A parade of some kind. People in it singing words to the music. Like a march except the steps were dance steps. Like an army only its uniforms were a riot. The music some kind of insurrection. It had non-negotiable demands.

When the parade got to the Plaza the plan was to go around once and call it a day. But another parade came parading up from the bay and another from out of the hills. The little town overflowed with music and when the day ended and they were all supposed to go home they went on parading and dancing and singing.

The parade kept on going just as the authorities had warned it would. It showed no sign of stopping or even slowing down. But the thing people found out about parades is it takes a lot of work to keep them going. Children and animals and musicians have to be fed. New dance steps have to be invented. People have to learn them and make costumes and hats and have places to show them off. Then the children and animals and musicians have to be fed again.

The parade and the labor of keeping it going turned out to be necessary to the people's survival. To be the essential work of human community as it has been for a zillion years. And that is why in every little town there have to be persons of great heart whose work is to keep the whole thing going. Who are themselves a restaurant and a theater and a school and a refuge for people like we've become. The music getting louder. The parade coming closer.

Till it's here and we're all in it. We're in it and we're moving together so when I trip and break my neck or you fall for some angel then someone steps in and picks up the flute or poem or drum and the music doesn't end but only gets deeper and sweeter. And to those people of great heart are also blessedly given a great voice and maybe a tambourine and they are granted a place at the front of the parade and as we follow the music and voices going on ahead there among the saints we see Sister Carol Davis and if we listen we hear her singing.

O Lord this life is so precious and sweet and too soon gone by & Lord what a blessing and what the music keeps it going.

On Thursday, June 17 at 6 p.m., the Board of Directors of Bayside Community Hall will hold a community meeting to discuss the ongoing lawsuit between the California State and National Grange and local halls, including Bayside.

These lawsuits threaten to remove local control of our community halls to distant state and national organizations.

This is an opportunity to get some background on how these lawsuits began, their current status, and the possible means of resolving them. The meeting will begin with a status report, followed by time for questions and answers and public comments.

As the current Board has little experience with the Grange, its members are particularly interested to hear from people who were involved with the organization both before and during the rift that began in 2012.

They also seek to understand if there is a significant portion of the local community that is willing, interested and able to run the hall as a

Michael Fields is moving on, making change with 'Madsummer'

I write this to say "THANK YOU" to Dell'Arte, the North Coast, and the many people, artists, and community members it has been my privilege to work and collaborate with for these past four decades. And hopefully that will continue.

As of June 30, 2021 I will be leaving all management at Dell'Arte. This has been planned for over a year and the transition is completed. I was at the beginning of a lot of things at Dell'Arte. I came here at 21 in 1975 to be part of the Grand Comedy Festival at Qwal a Wa Loo. And then was part of the company as we did the first touring work, LOONS RAGE.

From that point on I stayed on, becoming part of the core ensemble with Joan Schirle and Donald Forrest and then creating the role of producing artistic director in the '90s. And I just want to say how honored, grateful, and humbled I am to have worked with so many great artists, colleagues and students over the past 45 years. I have learned a lot. And may the learning continue.

This is a moment of great change, collectively, nationally, in the theatre world, and "in the Lake." I am thankful to be swimming in it. It is needed. And it cannot, but be different.

What next? I am happy to work to support the changes and transition at Dell'Arte in whatever way serves best. My hope is that it survives and thrives for the next 50 years and I believe that it will. I fully support a next generation of leadership. And I hope to continue to teach and create, again, in whatever ways serve best.

My focus now will be on teaching, creating, writing and directing. And I have established a new production company to help do that now. It is named LONGSHADR after an old sign that used to hang on my driveway (not sure who made it or where it came from).

I have the honor of living on Wiyot land above the Badua't (Mad River). LONGSHADR references the long shadows that are cast in the winter when the sun dips into the horizon behind the hill and the dark of the days become longer until the light of late spring. It is about hope, effort and joy of moving out of the shadows and into the light. It is about collaborations that promote the health and creative community spirit of this place. It is about preparing and creating popular ("of the people"), place inspired, theatre for a new era, in a hopefully post pandemic time.

The first project of this production company will be part of the Badua't (Mad River) summer festival at Dell'Arte is called MADSUMMER. It will be played on Saturday, July 17 from 5 to 7 p.m. – in the Dell'Arte Amphitheatre. MADSUMMER is a first showing of what will be a very free, jukebox musical, adaptation of MIDSUMMER NIGHTS DREAM with all of the lovers over the age of 60, set in a nursing home during a pandemic with the staff of the home like Cirque on steroids (don't expect any Shakespeare). The presentation this summer will be a concert version with songs we are working on for the piece along with some short scene excerpts.

Songs include, I WANT TO BE SEDATED, OLD FRIENDS, I DON'T LOOK GOOD NAKED ANYMORE, OLDER LADIES, FOREVER YOUNG AND MY GENERATION among others. The songs will be played and sung by the amazing house band it has been my pleasure work with over many festivals, Marla Joy, Tim Randles, Jeff Kelley and Mike Labolle.

The presentation will also include long time Dell'Arte Company member Michael Fields and invited guests including Wilda Thompson, Laura Murillo Hart, Zera Starchild and Donald Forrest among others.

It should be noted that, according to the Population Reference Bureau, the aging baby boom generation will fuel a 75 percent increase in older Americans requiring nursing home care to about 2.3 million people in 2030. And thematically, it should be stated that love ...deep, passionate love... is possible and doesn't end as one ages.

MADSUMMER has been informed by conversations with Humboldt Life Care and Hospice. You can go to dellarte.com for tickets and more festival information. Seating will be limited due to COVID safety protocols so it will be good to get tickets early.

I am on Facebook and a nascent website has been created for the new company, longshader.com (operable in July). I will also, hopefully, be traveling much more. I'd love to connect as a part of it all.

Elizabeth Bruenig in the Sunday New York Times recently wrote an opinion piece on birth. In it she wrote, "with the exception of a few immutable characteristics, you are not something you discover someday through trial and error and interior spelunking: you are something that is constantly in the process of becoming, the invention of endless revolutions. You sometimes catch glimpses of yourself in time when life shines through your inner world like a prism, illuminating all of the sundry colors it contains."

I find that to be true. And my intent is to continue to work to move to that light for the health of it all and with laughter, which I think we need a good dose of right now.

Thank you!

Michael Fields

OCEAN ART Left, McKinleyville Middle School seventh grade student Liana S. made this embroidered piece of art, which won first place in Humboldt County, and second in the state. Liana says “I embroidered this to show the amazing diversity of ocean life that we need to appreciate, respect, and protect. I included a shark, ray, octopus, seahorse, turtle, dolphin, eel, seal, and a school of fish. My favorite ocean animal is a dolphin.” Middle, Keep the Ocean Clean by Celilo W., 2nd grade, Laurel Tree Charter School, Arcata, won second place in Humboldt County. Right, a blue ceramic globe with orange and red ceramic sea stars affixed to the surface by Henry S. won third place in Humboldt County. Henry is a fourth grade student at Six Rivers Montessori in Arcata. Henry says “Starfish are fragile creatures despite what people think. This sculpture represents the fragility of our earth and as we might think throwing a starfish back in is good we need to actually not, but do more.”

Local students win ocean art contest

FRIENDS OF THE DUNES

ARCATA – After a year in which distance learning became standard in California schools, hundreds of elementary students from cities across California will be joining together virtually to send a message to the ocean, as the culmination of the 27th Annual Kids Ocean Day Program.

Due to the pandemic, the annual program shifted to live online presentations this year to help students learn about watersheds and how they are personally connected to their watershed and the ocean.

On June 8 (World Ocean Day), the students gathered together symbolically through a collective art project that communicates what the ocean means to all of us.

“Our 16th Annual Kids Ocean Day looked quite a bit different than previous years” said Suzie Fortner, Programs & Operations Director at Friends of the Dunes. “Normally, we would be gathering 1,000 students at the Mike Thompson Wildlife Area, South Spit Humboldt Bay for a day of stewardship activities and celebration of the ocean. Though we were unable to gather in person this year, students across Humboldt County spent the month of May learning how we are connected to the ocean through local watersheds, cleaning up trash along their own watersheds, and creating artwork to express what they love about the ocean. We are always really excited to be a part of this statewide collaboration which empowers thousands of California students to become ocean stewards. We can accomplish so much more together than any individual can on their own.”

In a typical year, Kids Ocean Day coordinators in five counties up and down the coast would host in-school presentations, which would be followed by a beach cleanup, and culminate with the students forming a work of aerial art (photographed from above) to help send a message about the need for clean beaches.

This year, instead of a student-led aerial art formation, students who attended an online classroom presentation were encouraged to create an original artwork illustrating what they love about the ocean for submission to the 2021 Kids Ocean Day Art Contest.

Each art entry is included as an individual image in a giant online mosaic. The statewide first-place winning artwork is the main image of the mosaic. Contest winners and their teachers received gift cards and other prizes.

The art contest winners for Humboldt County are:

- First Place: Liana S., 7th grade (Teacher Jody Himango, McKinleyville Middle School)
- Second place: Celilo W., 2nd grade (Teacher Amber Ryno, Laurel Tree Charter School)
- Third Place: Henry S. 4th grade (Teacher Michele Gilbert, Six Rivers Montessori)

Honorable Mentions: Wren H. (6th grade), Malayia B. (6th grade), and Olive S. (4th grade) (Teacher Michele Gilbert, Six Rivers Montessori), as well as a collective piece by teacher Alissa Stone’s 4th grade class (Ambrosini Elementary School, Fortuna).

To see their artwork and the 2021 Kids Ocean Day Picture Mosaic and animation video, visit friendsofthedunes.org/oceanday.

In the statewide contest, taken second place was Liana S., 7th grade (Teacher Jody Himango, McKinleyville Middle School, McKinleyville).

E-Motion opens at Morris Graves Museum

HUMBOLDT ARTS COUNCIL

EUREKA – The Humboldt Arts Council is pleased to present the exhibition E-Motion featuring stabiles and mobiles by Julie Frith and paintings by Kathryn Stotler in the Thonson Gallery at the Morris Graves Museum of Art, 636 F St., Eureka.

A reception for E-Motion will be held Saturday, July 3 from 6 to 9 p.m. during Arts Alive.

Frith is best known for her kinetic art mobile (sculpture). An artist born of two artist parents, Frith, the youngest of four, grew up in a very artistic world. Raised in Champaign-Urbana, Illinois, Frith was (still plays today) a violinist from the age of 7 playing in orchestra and private lessons until the age of 18. Very studious, she also was gifted with artistic skills.

She was taught by her parents art structure basics and design, that took her to college for art and music. Then she experienced many professional design jobs, teaching, and visual management positions after moving to Eureka. Seeing and learning about art in museums around the world and viewing art books as a child, modern abstract art was a big influence on her that intrigued her in making handmade art all the time as a kid. In 1998 Julie started selling her own line of art earrings, graphics and mobiles.

Her mobiles caught on quickly as the yearning for modern art styled mobiles were being sought after. Mid Century Modern was the big thing, with retro mobiles making a come back in home decor.

Frith makes most of her mobiles out of polished colored plastics and stainless steel, adding wood, and brushed metals to the selection of materials.

Kathryn Stotler moved to the far Northern California coast 30 years ago with her husband and young son.

She began painting plein air seascapes with a close friend and mentor and eventually realized that she loved to experiment and push the scenes in freer and looser ways than traditional plein air dictates. She enjoys pushing paint around on the paper or canvas and mixing her own colors.

Muddy coastal colors are her favorites. She loves the shapes and lines of grasses, rocks, and sand and wants to capture the essence of the shoreline and its unique components. The journey toward abstraction began as she painted to capture the influence of air, erosion, the power and elusiveness of the ocean.

Admission is $5 for adults; $2 for seniors (age 65 and over), military veterans, and students with ID; children 17 and under free; Families with an EBT Card and valid ID receive free admission through the Museums for All initiative, Museum members are free.

ing certain very important sonal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

tion will be held in this court as follows:

lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on this property.
NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (866)-960-8299 or visit this Internet Web site <http://www.altisource.com/MortgageServices/DefaultManagement/TrusteeServices.aspx> using the file number assigned to this case 2020-01967-CA.
Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale.
NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction, if conducted after January 1, 2021, pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase.
First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (855)-976-3916, or visit this internet website <https://tracker.auction.com/sh1079>, using the file number assigned to this case 2020-01967-CA to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid, by remitting the funds and affidavit described in Section 2924m(c) of the Civil Code, so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase.

ASD offers children’s summer meals

ARCATA SCHOOL DISTRICT
ARCATA – Arcata School District announces the return of its Children’s Summer Meal Program, running from June 14 through August 20 at Arcata Elementary School, Sunny Brae Middle School, and two community sites.

All children 18 and under are welcome to these free meals, and people 21 and under who are disabled may also participate. No paperwork or eligibility checks are required.

The District recognizes that nutrition plays a vital role in the healthy development and successful education of children.

A lack of nourishing diet options can lead to stunted mental and physical development, and can affect a child’s emotional responses, reactions to stress, and personal-social skills.

The District invites all children to participate in the program regardless of which school district they live in, especially those who do not have consistent access to healthy food outside of school.

Meals will be offered Monday-Friday, with breakfast and lunch served in one to-go bag.

The main serving site will be Arcata Elementary (noon to 12:30 p.m.), augmented by the following mobile sites: 2575 Alliance Road (10:40 to 11 a.m.), Manila Park (11:15 to 11:25 a.m.), and Sunny Brae Middle School (11:40 to 11:50 a.m.).

Please note that the schedule is subject to change. Call (707) 839-5219 with any questions.

For more information about the Arcata School District, visit the websites and Facebook pages for Arcata School District, Arcata Elementary Preschool, Arcata Elementary, and Sunny Brae Middle School.

Pereira | Resigned

have foreseen this opportunity back in 2018, let alone a global pandemic! While it’s difficult to leave the council, I’m grateful that I can continue serving the community in this new role.”

From the city’s Friday news release

Pereira was first elected to the Arcata City Council in 2014 and served as a Council Member for over six consecutive years, serving as Mayor in 2018 and 2021. She has represented the region on Governor Newsom’s Council of Regional Homeless Advisors and has served the community on many boards for organizations including the Humboldt Waste Management Authority, Arcata House Partnership, the Redwood Region Economic Development Commission, in addition to her service with Humboldt State University Liaison’s Working Group and the Humboldt Bay Municipal Water District’s Water Quality Task Force.

City Manager Karen Diemer describes Pereira as, “a champion for housing, protecting those most vulnerable in our community, committed to breaking barriers to build racial equity and maintaining strong local infrastructure to support residents and businesses,” and added, “Sofia has a sharp mind for developing sensible public policy that will serve this community for generations to come. She will be missed as an Arcata City Council Member, but I am certain we will continue to benefit from her leadership at the County level.”

In a letter submitted today, Pereira shared the difficulty of her decision to resign in order to accept her appointment as Humboldt County’s new Public Health Director: Dear Arcata,

I am submitting my resignation from the Arcata City Council, effective Friday, June 25, 2021. Starting June 27, I will begin a new chapter as the Public Health Director for the County of Humboldt, Department of Health and Human Services. I am honored and excited to take on this new role to serve our community and improve our community’s health and wellbeing. However, this decision was not taken lightly and prompts me to reflect on our time together since December 2014.

Serving the people of Arcata as a council member and your mayor has been an immense privilege. I am grateful to have been entrusted with the stewardship of our city budget, services, and planning for the future. I am grateful to all who engaged with the city’s work, pushing us to do better and be better.

Together we advanced the development and protection of affordable housing and created the tenant-based rental assistance program to keep our low-income neighbors housed. We expanded our city trail system and improved safe routes to school. We created new partnerships to support our most vulnerable, connecting mental health staff with our police department, and strengthened partnerships with service providers like Arcata House Partnership to expand services for the homeless.

I am grateful to have shepherded some of these achievements, and yet, I could not advance these policies alone. I want to express my appreciation for my current and former council colleagues, our city manager, and city staff for their dedication to our city and for what I learned from each of them during my time on the council.

I have the utmost confidence that the city council will continue to advance the work of making Arcata a more equitable, healthy, and livable community for all Arcatans. Arcata, you are in good hands! And I will continue this mission for Arcata and the County. My career in public service began well before I was an elected official, and I will continue to serve the public’s interest beyond my time as an elected official.

Thank you again for the opportunity to lead and guide our community through many complex challenges. The work to improve our community’s health and wellbeing will take all of us, and while I will no longer be on the city council after June 25th, my commitment will continue.

With gratitude, Sofia

PS: I hope to see many of you at a Crabs game or the Saturday Farmers’ Market!

More information will be provided as it becomes available. For more information on the Arcata City Council and to review the Council’s upcoming meeting agendas, please visit cityofarcata.org.

Discovery Museum opens

REDWOOD DISCOVERY MUSEUM
EUREKA – The Redwood Discovery Museum, 612 G St. in Eureka, is opening for one day this Saturday, June 19 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. All the favorite and portable exhibits will be brought out along with a few new things, as well as a giant bounce house!

Along with the endless exploration of kids science and engineering exhibits, families can enjoy maker stations, slime and bubble experiments, and performances from a local magician, musicians and dancers.

The struggles of the pandemic made a lasting mark on the museum’s already tight budget, and during the last year, the nonprofit organization came very close to having to permanently close its doors after more than 25 years.

Through the help of the community and the museum’s generous donors and sponsors, though, the museum is getting ready to open to the public once again.

In the effort to survive the sweep of small business closures, the museum had to go through a few transitions; the nonprofit now offers a half day preschool and will soon be starting a very new Arts Academy under the direction of its new executive director, Stephanie Carter.

Many old programs are returning as well, such as Pal Camp, First 5 Playgroup, and Kids Alive.

The Discovery Museum will hold these events every third Saturday of the month this summer.

Suggested donations are $10 to $20 per family (depending on size) or more, if you’re feeling generous. No one will be turned away for inability to pay.

McGuire likes flower power

STATE SEN. MIKE MCGUIRE
SACRAMENTO – Senator Mike McGuire moved to recognize the month of June as California Grown Flower Month during a presentation to the State Senate last week.

“Today, we are recognizing California as America’s best source for high-quality cut flowers,” Senator Mike McGuire said. “The industry has blossomed since its inception back in the late 1870s. California’s flower industry is the dominating force in floral in the United States. Our own Humboldt County is one of the largest flower producers in America, growing more fresh tulips than anywhere else in the nation and it’s the birthplace of the legendary Stargazer Lily.”

“California flower farmers account for over half of all domestically-supplied cut flowers in the nation, and the Golden State’s flowers meet the strictest growing standards in the world,” Senator McGuire said. “But,” he added, “like many industries during the pandemic, the Golden State’s flower farmers have been hit hard.”

Senator McGuire, a huge fan of fresh cut flowers himself, encouraged all Californians to shop local and support Golden State flower farmers by selecting flowers with the blue and gold CA Grown license plate logo whenever the occasion to buy flowers arises.

He then presented each of his fellow state senators with a bouquet courtesy of the California Cut Flower Commission, each marked with the CA Grown logo.
